Community and Stakeholder Engagement Overview

Every day, the Port of Houston Authority ("Port Houston") engages with people who have a vested interest in what we do and who are, in some way, connected to our mission. The quality of these relationships with our stakeholders will determine how well we deliver on our vision of becoming America’s Distribution Hub for the Next Generation. Port Houston is committed to building partnerships with its surrounding communities and a range of stakeholders, and seeking greater community and stakeholder involvement in the activities and decision-making processes of Port Houston.

This Community and Stakeholder Engagement Policy ("Engagement Policy") is designed to form the foundation for the way in which Port Houston’s community and stakeholder engagement is undertaken.

Background

2015 Strategic Plan: In April 2015, the Port Commission adopted a Strategic Plan, setting forth Port Houston’s mission, vision, and strategic goals and objectives. This Engagement Policy is intended to align with the following components of that Strategic Plan:

- Mission: To move the world and drive regional prosperity
- Vision: America’s distribution hub for the next generation
- Stewardship Goal and Objectives: Sustain the business for the long-term; cultivate productive relationships with all stakeholders; be an environmental leader
- Infrastructure Goal: Leverage key partnerships to influence regional infrastructure investment.

Legislative Requirements: Section 5007.216 of the Texas Special District Laws Code provides that the Port Commission “shall develop and implement a policy that provides a structure for public involvement.” The policy must include:

1) a clear and detailed description of how Port Houston will seek to actively engage stakeholders;
2) specific actions Port Houston will take to meet or exceed the requirements of laws related to open meetings; and
3) strategies that include use of Port Houston’s website to make available clear, updated information on issues of public concern.

2015 Community Engagement Plan: In October of 2015, the Port Commission adopted a Community Engagement Plan. In the spirit of continuous improvement, this Engagement Policy is intended to replace the 2015 Community Engagement Plan, and offer further detail and a more comprehensive, organizational process to engage with stakeholders.
Engagement Objectives

Engagement Process Objectives: When developing and delivering engagement communications and activities, Port Houston shall strive to:

1) Ensure that engagement communications and activities are planned with a clear understanding of what Port Houston wants to achieve

4) Prioritize funding needs and carefully leverage resources for greatest impact
5) Assess and update engagement strategy based on experience and the changing wants and needs of stakeholders

Engagement Outcome Objectives: Effective stakeholder engagement should accomplish the following:

1) Productive relationships with stakeholders
2) Greater understanding of and ability to meet stakeholder needs and wants
3) Improved public involvement with Port Houston and Port Houston involvement with its stakeholders and surrounding communities
4) Increased awareness and understanding of Port Houston and its objectives
5) Improved dialogue between Port Houston and its stakeholders
6) Improved transparency of Port Houston plans and operations

8) Increased trust between Port Houston and its stakeholders
9) Identification of new engagement opportunities
10) Improved public perception of Port Houston
Community and Stakeholder Groups

Stakeholders are individuals, groups, or organizations that have the potential to impact or be impacted by Port Houston operations and activities. Port Houston’s stakeholders* include, but are not limited to:

- Media

*Port Houston recognizes that its customers, trade partners, vendors, employees, and Commissioners are stakeholders and that some of the concepts set forth in this Engagement Policy could apply to those groups. However, this document is not intended to govern Port Houston’s engagement with those groups.
Process for Engagement

Working with stakeholders isn’t a one-off activity. It is an ongoing, dynamic process. Port Houston’s model for stakeholder engagement is a five-step which guides the planning, preparation, action, and evaluation of Port Houston’s engagement activities.
Step 1 – Think Strategically:
Identify material issues and stakeholders

In this step, Port Houston takes into consideration its organizational objectives, underlying issues relating to those objectives (including the potential impact of Port Houston activities on stakeholders), and how those objectives and issues relate to stakeholders. Port Houston then develops strategies for prioritizing stakeholders and issues for further analysis.

Some specific tasks in this step include:

- Identifying stakeholders who could impact the ability of Port Houston to achieve the objectives set forth in its strategic plan or be impacted by Port Houston’s activities
- Mapping stakeholders and organizing them into categories
- Identifying and considering strategic engagement risks, challenges, opportunities, and potential objectives
- Setting high-level engagement goals and objectives
- Prioritizing stakeholders and issues based on the above considerations
- Creating, reviewing, and revising this Engagement Policy

Step 2 – Analyze & Plan:
Develop an understanding of issues and stakeholders, in order to best address them

The aim of this step is to increase Port Houston’s understanding of the key issues and stakeholders identified in Step 1 so that they can be properly addressed.

Some specific tasks in this step include:

- Reviewing how the key issues and stakeholders identified in Step 1 are currently being addressed and managed by Port Houston
- Learning from other organizations and networks about how best to respond to key stakeholders and issues
- Reviewing the current state of Port Houston’s relationships with key stakeholders
- Building up a profile of key stakeholders - their expectations, influence, characteristics, and preferred approaches to engagement
- Considering what Port Houston is and is not able to do in relation to these issues and expectations
- Developing a detailed strategic engagement plan which lays out the groups of stakeholders with which to engage, the types of engagement activities in which to engage, and what Port Houston hopes to achieve
Step 3 – Resource & Prepare:
Ensure Port Houston has the capacity to understand issues and effectively engage with stakeholders.

In this step, Port Houston develops the skills, systems, and resources needed to effectively engage with stakeholders.

Some specific tasks in this step include:

- Considering the individual skills and capacities and organizational systems needed for engagement and identify areas for improvement
- Developing and carrying out plans to strengthen Port Houston’s and stakeholders’ capacities to engage with one another
- Developing a budget for meeting overall engagement needs

Step 4 – Design & Engage:
Plan and effectively carry out engagement activities

In this step, Port Houston plans and carries out engagement activities with its stakeholders.

Some specific tasks in this step include:

- Deciding the best ways to engage with stakeholders
- Assessing potential engagement risks and barriers to effective engagement with stakeholders
- Designing engagement activities, investments, and communications that suit the needs of a specific situation and help achieve Port Houston objectives
- Carrying out or delivering engagement activities, investments, and communications

Step 5 – Review & Measure:
Review and learn from the results of the engagement process

The aim of this step is to understand the outcomes of engagement and to translate that new learning and insight into additional action.

Some specific tasks in this step include:

- Reviewing the outcomes of engagement
- Reporting internally (including to the Port Commission) and externally to stakeholders regarding stakeholder input and engagement outcomes
- Developing plans of action based on stakeholder input and engagement outcomes
- Reviewing the engagement process to improve future activities
Levels and Methods of Engagement

All engagement methods have their benefits and limitations. Port Houston will evaluate and select methods of engagement that best fit the particular stakeholder and issue. The following table provides an overview of the various levels and types of engagement Port Houston could consider when deciding how to engage with a particular stakeholder:

Guidelines for Port Houston Support of Stakeholders

Port Houston’s support of its stakeholders, whether financial or in-kind, should be carefully evaluated against Port Houston’s other needs and available resources, and only appropriate, mission-driven items, should be funded, consistent with prudent financial management and in accordance with applicable law, including Subchapter H of Chapter 60 of the Texas Water Code. Examples of existing stakeholder support include:

- Support of initiatives, such as by providing volunteer time and other in-kind donations for programs, projects, and engagement opportunities that align with Port Houston’s strategic objectives.
- Sponsorships may be provided for activities, events, or other matters that align with Port Houston’s strategic objectives.
- Service agreements may be provided to specialized organizations that provide a unique benefit to the Port of Houston and Port Houston and align with Port Houston’s strategic objectives.

In making decisions regarding stakeholder support, priority should be given to 1) those stakeholders who are or have the potential to be most impacted by Port Houston and 2) those that have or could have the greatest impact on Port Houston’s strategic objectives.

Budgeting and Reporting

As part of the process for engagement, Port Houston staff will recommend stakeholder engagement budget annually, during the Port Houston budget cycle, and will propose in the annual budget the organizations and programs that will be funded for that budget year. These stakeholder engagement budget items will be recommended to the Port Commission for consideration and approval at the budget workshop or other public meeting of the Port Commission.

In furtherance of Port Commission review, certain requests will be again reviewed and re-evaluated by the Executive Director. Requests that come to the attention of the Port Houston that were not included in the budget have been delegated by the Port Commission to the Executive Director for review and potential approval. The Executive Director should evaluate each such request to assure that it is aligned with Port Houston’s strategic goals, supports Port Houston’s mission, and properly leverages resources.

Staff will develop and annually review a plan for tracking and internally and externally reporting on engagement outcomes. The plan may include:

- Reporting requirements regarding stakeholder groups engaged by Port Houston, how those groups were selected, the specific engagement activities conducted, and any concerns, successes, or opportunities identified through the engagement activities
- The establishment of performance measures relating to engagement
